

I am an enthusiastic subscriber to satellite radio. I have it installed on 3 of my vehicles, my computer and my home stereo. I pay a good bit for this and value it so much over the constant repetition and advertising on commercial broadcast radio. We want and pay for this right to receive current information that the satellite providers are willing to provide us. Please don't let any regulation take away that right. Commercial over-the-air broadcasters will always be here and don't need the government to weaken their competition unfairly.
